Man Who it is Claimed Killed Lillian Weisgraber to Be Tried by Higher

James F. Cavanaugh, the young ratiroad brakeman who was arrested last Thursday night for the murder of Lillian Weisgraber, formerly of Norwich, in his room at No. 90 Ann street, Hartford, was given a hearing before Judge Walter H. Clark in police court in Hartford, Friday morning. Cavanaugh was put to plea when he was brought into court last Friday. Hugh O'Flaherty and Louis Katz were counsel for the accused. Judge Clark found probable cause and bound Cavanaugh over to the June term of the superior court without bonds. Mr O'Flaherty and Prosecuting Attorney Dickenson differed greatly on the question of the state "showing its hand" before the real trial takes place. Mr. Dickenson inwisted that he had introduced sufficient testimony to warrant binding Cavanaugh over to the superior court. Mr. O'Flaherty thought the state should show a larger heart in such cases. The defense did not introduce any testimony, but Mr. O'Flaherty made an eloquent plea for his client. wich, in his room at No. 90 Ann

The death of Mrs. Lydia Armstron widow of Ashael Armstrong, occurr at 1.45 o'clock Friday afternoon at I nome on Franklin Hill. She had be death was due to a general breaking down.

She was born at Franklin Hill, November 22, 1829, the oldest daughter of Dr. Stephen Sweet and Matilda Armstrong Sweet. She spent practically her whole life in the vicinity of her birthplace, except for several summers which she spent at North Attleboro. She was married in 1837 to Mr. Armstrong. She was a member of Dr. Mott's church for nearly seventy years and always took an active part in church work. She has for some time been known as the oldest resident of the section in which the lived. Her husband was by profession a carpenter, although he was for some time engaged as a bone setter. He has been dead about 20 years. Mrs. Armstrong was of a kind, charitable disposition and during her long life was ever an influence for good in the community. Her death is mourned by many friends. She leaves one son, Frederick Armstrong, with whom she made her home, and these brothers and sisters: Mrs. B. F. Greenslit of Franklin, Mrs. Ransom Sholes of Preston, Mrs. Henry Phelps of Montville, Mrs. James Perkins and Mrs. Andrew H. Breed of Norwich, Dr. J. Byron Sweet of Jewett City, Mrs. E. A. METHODIST CONFERENCE HAS MUCH BUSINESS May Not Be Able to Adjourn on Monday, as Planned. At the Methodist conference in South Manchester Friday the programme opened at 3.30 with devotions, in charge of Prof. M. D. Buell, who took as his subject, The Mind of Christ, Self-Crucifying Love. A business session occupied the remainder of the morning and at 2.30 Friday afternoon Dr. Mary Carleton of China addressed the conference on Medical Work in China. The anniversary of the board of education was celebrated in Cheney hall in the evening at 7.30. The Rev. Franklin Hamilton. D.D., of Washington, D. C., delivered the address.

The conference will, upon invitation of Trinity church, Providence, R. I., meet in that city next year. This was decided at Friday morning's session.

A. S. Muirhead of Providence, O. J. Aldridge of Stoughton Mass., W. H. Bath of Providence, W. E. Heady of Oak Bluffs, Mass., N. A. Sabbarese of New Bedford, Mass., and S. W. Irwin of East Greenwich, R. L. were reported by the examining board as having passed the required studies and were advanced to elders' orders.

Although the business of the conference is reported well in hand it is regarded as doubtful now if adjournment may be taken by next Monday as planned, as much of the time which should have been devoted to business has been occupied by speeches by persong not members of the conference. The report which has become general that there will be an unusual number of transfers in the pastoral appointments this year has caused considerable discussion among the ministers. These appointments, however, will not be made known until the closing hours of the session.

These appointments, however, will not be made known until the closing hours of the session.

Prof. Willard C. Fisher of Wesleyan university gave a stirring revelation on The Neglect of Christian Principles in Modern Industrial Life, on Thursday afternoon. The address lasted an hour and a halt.

Thursday night's session of the conference was held in Cheney hall and was largely attended. The anniversary of foreign missions was celebrated. J. R. Magee presided and H. C. Stuntz, D.D., corresponding secretary of the board of foreign missions, delivered the address of the evening, and a rare musical programme was rendered by the Manchester male chorus.

BOYS' BROTHERHOOD. First Baptist Church Organization Entertained by Herbert Willey.

The Boys' Brotherhood, a class of young boys, of the First Baptist Bible school, held its regular meeting Friday evening with Herbert Willey of Asylum street. The president, Master Herbert Willey, presided at the business meeting. Following the acceptance of the several reports a discussion was held upon the class pin. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Miss Bernice Willey and Miss Louise Loveland, who had the care of the young people's entertainment. The meetings arouse much enthusiasm and are greatly enjoyed by the boys. The members of the class are Herbert Willey, Clifford Oat, Arthur Lamb, Robert Kenerson, Ernest Sterry, Rossie Batty, John Frink, Albert Woodmansee, Willie Evans, Harold Lindberg and Robert Woodmansee.

XENS HAVE MEETING. Entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Keenz-Annal Meeting Coming.

The Xens held their regular meeting Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Will J. Koanz of West Main street. Mrs. Herbert Willey, the president, presided. A business meeting was held and a committee was appointed to see about the New London school orchestra for an entertainment.

Following the meeting, "A Trip About Town," was enjoyed as was the advertisement guessing contest. The next will be the annual meeting of the society and is to be held at the church.
